New York is to have a New City Hall. Tammany is to build it. What a prospect for the taxpayers! And with Philadelphia staring them in the face, too.

The Governor of Mississippi offers a reward of $100 for each White Cap convicted in the courts of that state. That ought to develop a new man-hunting industry in Mississippi.

During the past campaign the Democrats indulged in a great deal of bluster about repealing the sugar bounty. Will they dare to keep their word? The benefits of the present arrangement go almost entirely to the Southern states. Of the $7,342,077.70 paid in sugar bounties during the past year, $7,077,316.21 went to the four states of Louisiana, Texas, Florida and Mississippi. Though opposed to the substitution of a bounty for the tariff, they enjoyed under the law of 1853, Southern sugar planters have found by experience that the change has been beneficial, particularly to small planters. Abolition of the bounty would ruin them.

In speaking before the House Committee on the World's Fair in regard to opening the Columbian exposition on the Sabbath, Bishop Horst declared that "the consciences of the American people are not in harmony with Sunday opening" and that he does "not believe that the American people are willing to unite with the nations of Europe on the question of a Continental Sunday." In view of the fact that the divines of Chicago are vehemently opposed to opening the great fair on the Sabbath, this argument of the eloquent prelate seems untenable. It is because they desire to convert the American Sunday into a "Continental Sunday" that the owners of saloons, gambling dens and concert halls in Chicago are anxious that the gates of the Columbian Exposition shall be barred on the first day of the week. "A Continental Sunday" does not consist in opening the doors of institutions devoted to the exhibition of the works of art and science. The significance of a "Continental Sunday" lies in the fact that the day is turned into a secular holiday, during which beer gardens, cafes, theaters and concert saloons are thronged from morn to night with people drawn thither in quest of the amusement which such places afford. The opening of the World's Fair on Sundays would tend to prevent a similar desecration of the day in Chicago and to minimize the attendance at questionable resorts.

NO POCKETS IN A SHROUD.

What matters wealth when we have left this earth.

...not sinks us rich and proud. What lies beyond the grave, alone, is worth. There are no pockets in a shroud.

The speediest and the most close May joie in the moving crowd: At last both sleep the same eternal sleep. And neither have a pocket in his shroud.

Fair Paradise is paved through with Haar- gold only.

No pocket has ever been allowed As balest in the boat of the grim farce-man. There are no pockets in a shroud.

Golden crowns open the peary gates; Let millions for mercy cry aloud When living. The doore are wailing for your tears to-day.

There are no pockets in a shroud.

—Howard Sartby.

Robert D. Stockton and wife to Matilda G. Stockton, grantors' interest in three pieces of real estate on North side of West Second street; consideration, love and affection.

Boats the Oldest Inhabitants.

If the oldest inhabitant, or any other inhabitant, has a boat, he will cold spell with the one through which we are passing, it will be in order for him to rise and inform us as to the time when it happened. From about the middle of October to now, January 10th, near three months, good free has been necessary in every residence, office, store and manufactory in Kentucky. It is believed by many that the cutting out of the timber been the cause of the severe cold winds which we have experienced and many good reasons have been given to sustain this theory. The establishment of "Arbor Day" by the Legislature does not seem to have increased the planting of trees, and our farms are bleak and desolate, so far as our native forests are concerned.

Made Good by Food.

Thomas Odell, a young man of 22 years, living seven miles back of Greenup, Ky., has met death in a strange manner. He had been a puzzle to physicians for several years. He was affected by what he ate to such an extent that when he indulged in beef eating about an hour afterward he would become restless and wander out in search of cattle and hallow as ox and would get down on his hands and knees and grass like a cow. When he partook of mutton his actions were those of a sheep, and he would plaintively bleat like a lamb. When he ate chicken he would go out and scratch for worms, which he would devour with apparent relish.

After eating fish he would wade to the creek and go swimming. His father killed several squirrels of which the son ate heartily for dinner. He left the house shortly afterward and was followed by the father. The father saw his son jumping in an oak grove, and soon saw his son jumping at the same time barking like a squirrel. He called for him to come down, but this only seemed to make the boy want to escape, and he attempted to jump from one tree to another, but missed and fell to the ground, a mangled, breathless mass of humanity, and expired in less than five minutes.

The hope of the party lies in the separation of a distinct Republican press. The Republicans who reads or otherwise helps to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one of his own party newspapers is untrue to the Republican cause.

It is said Indiana Republicans in the Legislature are to make grave charges against the management of the Jefferson Penitentiary.

The Courier-Journal has ordered another perfecting press with capacity of 40,000 complete papers per hour. The cost will be $45,000. Now, boys, if you will only send your paper to Mayville by 10 o'clock in the morning, you'll have a boom in this section.

At Chester, Pa., Thomas Rogers shot and fatally wounded his aged mother and father and then shot and slightly wounded his sister. The father had attempted to make him go to work. What a hard-hearted father that poor boy had! Take warning, stern parents.

By all means close up the doors of the World's Fair on Sunday. This will force tens of thousands of drunks into the Chinese saloons, where they can fill up on man whisky. It will be so much more elevating than allowing them to go to the Fair on Sunday.

The Clerk of the Kentucky House of Representatives has reported that as many as seven bills now on the slate had been improperly passed, and were as valid as if they had not been passed. This will no doubt be seen just what our law-abiding Democratic friends are going to do about it. Will they tolerate laws that are not law?

The Courier-Journal hasn't ventured to say whether THE LEDGER's answer as to who composed "the real American people" is satisfactory. But, then, nothing can be satisfactory to The Journal unless it is Democratic. It is even disengaged with the Railway Mail Service, which it thinks is manned by Republicans, when in fact most of the mail handlers are Democrats.

Those who attempt history ought to be accurate. The Washington correspondent of The Times-Star says:

It will be remembered that it was General BENJAMIN F. BUTLER's Regiment of Massachusetts volunteers, who, while en route to the South, on the 1st of May, was stopped and fired upon while passing through the streets of Baltimore.

The fellow who remembers that remembers too much. But it should be remembered that it was Colonel EDWARD F. JONES' Sixth Massachusetts Regiment that was mobbed in Baltimore. The trouble there is altogether too much history which is not history.
